

The Shutterbug

Shae Leighland's photographic subject matter includes old rusty equipment, modes of transportation, and rural settings. She photographs both urban and rural decay, and likes to haunt car shows, where she is frequently found lying on the ground to get a shot of a hood ornament or door handle set against the sky.

Her photographs are available as prints and posters, greeting cards, and on novelty items. If there is a particular photo you are interested in, please contact Shae.

Feel free to browse by category, below.

{mosmodule module=Landscapes and Still Life}

{mosmodule module=Structures}

{mosmodule module=Machinery and Modes of Conveyance}

{nabToggle title="Reader Comments"}{comment}{/nabToggle}